

Comenius - Slovenia

10-14. March, 2014

On Monday morning, we were so excited, and we waited for the bus. After the bus arrived, we started off with one teacher. We were 6: Regina, Szandi, Emma, Dani, Gergő, and me. We left our town at about 10 o'clock. The journey wasn't long and it was so good, the scenery was beautiful, and the mountains and tunnels of Slovenia was interesting. We enjoyed it. We arrived to Ajdovscina to our accommodation at 2.30 in the afternoon. We were in a new dorm, near the school. Later we packed out and relaxed. At 8 pm in the school after a short welcome we could taste typical cakes of the countries.

On Tuesday morning after the fantastic welcome, some teachers showed us the school and we visited some lessons for 4-5 minutes. Then, in the conference room the countries presented their presentation. After lunch we had a little free time and later we visited sights of Ajdovscina and we were hiking. We were at the waterfall, castle, river, in museums and galleries.

Late in the afternoon we went to the Community Center where we looked at a performance. There were child and adult folk dance, male choir, the great chorus, some children played music and we've seen a little part of Harry Potter. Then, a delicious slovenian dinner waited for us. Later we went back to our accommodation.

On Wednesday morning the Slovenian teachers said the day's program and then a bus took us to Postojna. On the way we heard a guided tour and we admired the scenery. In the city we visited the famous stalactite cave and a butterfly exposition and we had lunch at a nearby restaurant. Later we went to a capital city, Ljubljana. After a short sight-seeing we got 2 hours free time. Late in the afternoon we went back to the dorm and at 6 pm we were on a 'Pizza Party' in the hotel.

On Thursday morning we learned the Comenius-song, and we took part in 2 lessons. I was in English and P.E. lesson. It was very interesting, and by this time it wasn't strange that we always communicate in English. Then, again, we had a little free time and we had a 3-kilometer-long tour. The aim was the dump.

We realized there how important it is to pay attention to our environment and save our nature! After a quick preparation and clothes changing, we gathered at the hotel and one teacher accompanied us to a surprise-party's place. It was in a sport centre. Lots of cakes, programs, music and Slovenian children were waiting for us. They called us to play basketball at the nearby courses. The boys played football and they learnt archery. Some girls learnt dancing Zumba from a teacher in one room.

Later they made tasty hamburgers for us then we were on the playground. Soon, Slovenian children called us into the room to play games. There was a very good mood. We laughed a lot. In the evening we asked children's e-mail address, and on the way to the hotel and dorm we had a great time with the Italian and German girls. We talked a lot. Of course, in English. Then we said goodbye to them and to the Slovenian children, adults.

On Friday morning after packing and breakfast we left the dorm at 9 o'clock. On the way we stopped at a supermarket for drinks and souvenirs. In Marcali our parents and our English teacher were waiting for us.

We had an unforgettable experience.
